
Now in An Enchanted Place

I grew up near an enchanted place. It was a set of woods, about 50 acres. No one lived there. Just some cows. We kids would walk, and run, and explore all through the timber and meadows. In the middle of the forest there were 2 apple trees. Apple trees in the middle of nowhere? Who put them there? Johnny Appleseed? Eating wild apples on an autumn day – what a gift.

Down the hill was a fox den. If you were real quiet when you arrived, you would see baby foxes hopping like kangaroos through the tall grass. They had good ears and noses, so you did not have long to watch before they would look you straight in the eye as if to say, “Hello! Goodbye!” And they disappeared. Hopping baby foxes playing together -- a most wonderful sight.

Two creeks joined together in the woods. Always there were tadpoles or frogs to catch. (It was catch and release – I promise we did not eat them). But it was always a surprise to spot them and try to catch them. The creeks joined together under a giant catalpa tree, with leaves the size of dinner plates. That tree in the middle of the forest was like something out of Alice’s Wonderland. All these things – it was a gift. I didn’t earn it. I just got to enjoy it.

Now I work in a church. I feel like this church is that same kind of enchanted place. There are all these people who surprise you. Some of them make music that touches your heart. How do they make such glorious sounds? It is a gift. Other people lead children in stories of faith, hope and love. The children make your heart leap when you see them singing, drawing and playing.

Some people cook food and bring it to people who are sick or sad, and the food makes them smile. Some people write little notes that say: “Thinking of you.” It is the sweetest feeling to hear people say, “I got this beautiful note, and it touched my heart.” There are people who are very good at welcoming strangers. They walk up to a stranger, start talking to them, and in some enchanted way, the stranger turns into a friend. They end up with a spiritual home.

One person saw a broken harpsichord – and fixed it like brand new. Who doesn't love the sound of a harpsichord with its mystic melody. Some people have taken the beautiful stained glass windows that started to sag and could break one day, and made them straight and shining like brand new. Others have taken broken or sagging people, and talked with them, and touched their hearts, and made them stand up straight again. Like brand new.

Of course it's not magic. It's Jesus who inspires all of this. Jesus brings all these people together. And gives them gifts to bless one another. You can hear Jesus smiling when he says, "Love one another, as I have loved you."

Those woods of my childhood? Now I know how they were kept wondrous, because now I am a steward of those woods. I help watch over them. Far more importantly, you and I are stewards of this enchanting church. We make sure it stays strong, and healthy. We keep it a sanctuary, a safe-place filled with Christ's love. We are stewards of this enchanting people of God.

"For everything there is a season (Ecclesiastes 3:1)
Now is stewardship time at Westminster. It is our time to appreciate with wonder the gifts God has given the world. And for us to make sure that our pledges keep beautiful things happening among this enchanting people of God. When we look at this wonderful church, sometimes we have to step back and say, "What a gift." It's ours to watch over as stewards in the household of God.

Thank you for your love for this congregation and its mission. There are moments when the love of this church is so breathtaking, it makes you feel like a child again, running through God's garden.

Gratefully yours,
Andrew McDonald, Senior Pastor

Consecration Sunday – Bring Your Pledge Card.

Please bring your pledge card to worship on November 8 for Consecration Sunday. We will bring them forward and dedicate them together. We encourage parents to walk their pledge forward with their children so they can participate, and we can be role models of dedicating our stewardship gifts to God.

If you are unable to be with us on that day, please put it in the offering plate or mail it to:

*Business Administrator
Westminster, 2110 Sheridan Blvd.
Lincoln, NE 68502*

If you have questions, please call the office and ask for Cheryl Rennick (402-475-6702).

Important Reminder!

Congregation Meeting
Scheduled for November 15.

Mark you calendars for the Annual Meeting of the Congregation on Sunday, November 15,
following 10:30 AM worship.
All members are encouraged to attend.

Attention All Faith Village Friends!!!

November will be a special and fun month in Faith Village. A generous donation of beautiful stain glass turkey hands came from a talented member of our congregation. Everyone has the opportunity to earn one of these pieces of art to represent your achievements in Faith Village. All you have to do is complete the activities for the month of November and you will have earned your turkey. The activities include learning the new song "Little Things", learning the memory verse from 1 Samuel, and actively participating in 3 or 4 rotations for the month of November. The turkey hands will be awarded during Sunday School on November 22 in Faith Village. We hope to see all of you in Faith Village!

Children & Families Ministry

In Faith Village, the K-5th graders are engaged in a workshop rotation model each Sunday beginning at 10:45 AM. In November, the children will learn the boyhood stories of David. God used the gifts of the boy David to accomplish God's purposes. God saw something in David no one else could see. Everyone has God-given gifts to accomplish God's work in the world. God cares more about what is on the inside than how we appear on the outside. We invite you to bring your children to Sunday School to explore the wonder and excitement of being a child of God.

Pageant Audition for Getting to Know the Youth Directors

Pastor Jen took some time to ask our youth directors a series of questions. You can find the full article online at westminsterlincoln.org/youthdirectorinterview. Devon Nelson, a 15+ year member, has worked with Westminster's youth for a couple years now— first the middle school youth and now the senior high youth. Andrew Finkner joined the Westminster team in September, as the middle school youth director.

What exciting things do you see God doing with our youth?

Andrew: I see God igniting a desire inside each youth to know God better and pursue a relationship with God. I've seen God work in people's lives through others. My role is to facilitate that start. I enjoy hearing and understanding people, learning their full story. I know kids this age especially, hold a lot inside. I hope they can trust me to talk to about those problems. I didn't have many people like that in my life, so I hope to break down those boundaries.

Devon: It's a really cool part of my job to see our youth get excited about God! Specifically, when our youth bring in stories of how they saw God work in school, in their community, or even at home, it really re-ignites the passion I have for working with our youth and makes everything better. It's sometimes surreal for me to work with our youth and at the end of the year take a step back, look at the attitudes of the kids when the year started and then see what it is now and think that I had a part in the positive changes these kids are making in their lives.

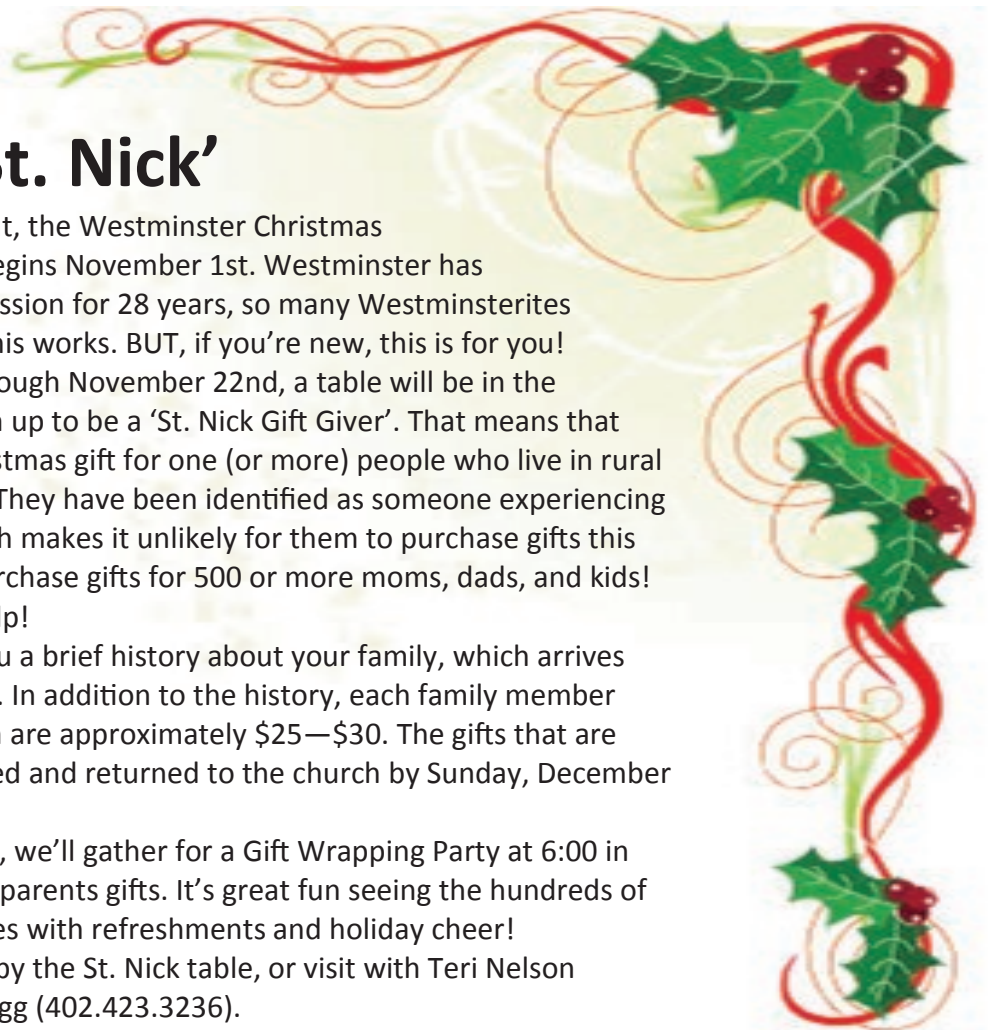

Watch for 'St. Nick'

St Nick is coming! That's right, the Westminster Christmas Mission Project, 'St. Nick', begins November 1st. Westminster has sponsored this important mission for 28 years, so many Westminsterites are very familiar with how this works. BUT, if you're new, this is for you! Beginning November 1st through November 22nd, a table will be in the Garden Room for you to sign up to be a 'St. Nick Gift Giver'. That means that you would like to buy a Christmas gift for one (or more) people who live in rural areas in outstate Nebraska. They have been identified as someone experiencing difficult circumstances, which makes it unlikely for them to purchase gifts this Christmas. Each year, we purchase gifts for 500 or more moms, dads, and kids! That's why we need your help!

After signing up, we send you a brief history about your family, which arrives around the 1st of December. In addition to the history, each family member provides 3 gift choices which are approximately $25—$30. The gifts that are purchased are left unwrapped and returned to the church by Sunday, December 13th.

On Tuesday, December 15th, we'll gather for a Gift Wrapping Party at 6:00 in Fellowship Hall, to wrap the parents gifts. It's great fun seeing the hundreds of gifts and enjoying fellow elves with refreshments and holiday cheer!

Want to know more?? Stop by the St. Nick table, or visit with Teri Nelson (402.423.0986) or Freda Gregg (402.423.3236).

Celebrating Westminster's 110th Anniversary with 110 Musicians!

Sunday, November 22 at 10:30 Worship

Christ the King Sunday concludes the Liturgical Year by remembering the Triumph of Christ. Come in thanksgiving and praise to God to celebrate Westminster's 110th year in a special way! Our goal is to sing "The Hallelujah Chorus" with more voices than ever! Musicians from all choirs and instrumental groups (plus anyone who would like to join us!) will gather and make joyful music to the Lord.
