February 22: Led by Larry Williams

“Prejudice and Racism in My Life”

Recent events in multiple cities involving the deaths of some minority citizens have raised questions about prejudice and racism among members of the police. The number of incidents, protests and even revenge killings show this to be an issue of moral urgency.

Next week, March 1, begins a new Lenten series with Rev. Jennifer Strickland entitled: Space for Grace. We’ll be examining different aspects of our life that could use the holy and grace-filled presence of Jesus, such as food, money, and service.

Outreach:

For daily devotions and information about mission work in the U.S. and around the world, take a look at the Presbyterian Mission Yearbook of Prayer online. At www.presbyterianmission.org you can find a "Daily Lectionary Reading" as well as stories of fellow Presbyterians under the tab "Mission and Ministry".

From the Green @Heart Team:

Looking for a unique way to observe Lent this season? Try the Lenten Carbon Fast. Sign up through email or "Like" their Facebook page for daily tips on how to reduce your carbon footprint. Your actions, like all great Lenten disciplines, will invite you into contemplation, discernment, and a closer walk with God. Find out more: <http://www.macucc.org/carbonfast>

From the Food Pantry:

THANK YOU to all who participated in our annual Food Drive. We hope the congregation will help us reach the next challenge of collecting 110 items each week, to continue to commemorate our 110th anniversary. We have plenty of boxes of breakfast cereal on hand, but we are in need of all other items. Please think of us through the year when you are doing your grocery shopping.
